INTRODUCTION

This brochure is an experiment on the part of the Faculty Social Committee. It is designed to help you, our new colleagues on the campus, find your way without any loss of time into the recreational activities which are most to your taste. Perhaps this compilation may grow and improve in future years so that it will include information about more essential matters than recreation. Meanwhile, we wish to welcome you to our social life. We like it here and we want you to feel the same way.
